

Joni Lamb

Joni Lamb wears many hats – co-founder of the Daystar Television Network, executive producer and host of the daily talk show “Joni,” co-host of “Celebration,” author, singer, psalmist, wife and mother. Through each of these roles, Joni lives a life dedicated to God and destined to fulfill His purpose for her life.

Joni was born in Greenville, S.C., and in 1982, she married Marcus Lamb. Together, they began a life of ministry through television broadcasting and co-founded the Daystar Television Network, which is the fastest growing and largest Christian Television Network in the world. With 25 years of experience in television, the Lambs have built a unique platform to grow their ministry. Today, the network is broadcast on over 80 U.S. television stations in addition to the 70 or more stations Daystar owns and operates. Daystar reaches 80 million homes domestically and is available in 200 countries and 525 million homes globally.

Utilizing her engaging personality and intelligence, Joni is executive producer and host of the talk show, “Joni.” She defends the Word of God and shares the love of Christ in this daily program. The “Joni” show addresses relevant Godly solutions for today’s complex problems and has hosted guests including: Dr. Phil, Shelley Lubben, Dr. Jim Garlow and former Korn band member, Brian “Head” Welch. Her uncompromising values on the “Joni” show have won the respect of millions. In 2004 it was awarded the Best Television Talk Show by the prestigious organization of National Religious Broadcasters and it is currently syndicated on ABC Family.

Joni also co-hosts Daystar’s daily flagship live broadcast, “Celebration,” with her husband, Marcus. “Celebration” features interviews and powerful, moving testimonies with today’s top best-selling and new authors, leaders in faith and business, special musical guests, professional athletes and more. “Celebration” has hosted a number of guests from around the world including: Sunday Adelaja and Matthew Ashimalowo as well as guests like Bishop T.D. Jakes, Brian Houston, Tommy Tenney, Creflo Dollar, actor Stephen Baldwin, director Michael Landon Jr., author Francine Rivers, former heavy-weight champion George Foreman and Joyce Meyer.

In 2006, Joni authored the book “Surrender All: Your Answer to Living with Peace, Power & Purpose.” In this book, Joni tells stories from her own life and shares others’ testimonies about how surrendering to God will make your dreams come true.

In addition to her writing, she is a gifted singer and psalmist and has recorded a number of albums, along with the Daystar Band, featuring praise and worship music. Joni is a sought-after conference speaker and ministers frequently with her husband Marcus throughout the country.

Joni also has the wonderful responsibility and honor of being a wife and a mother. The Lambs reside in Dallas, Texas, with their three children, Jonathan, Rachel and Rebecca.

