Philanthropy Expert Says Jobs Act Would Eliminate Nonprofit Positions:

Rick Dunham Opposes Scaling Back Tax Deduction for Charitable Giving

WHAT: As part of his plan to fund the American Jobs Act, President Obama has called for an increase in the top tax rate to more than 40 percent for households making $250,000 or more ($200,000 for singles) and a limit on their charitable tax deduction to 28 percent.

Rick Dunham, an expert on charitable giving, believes changing the system would have a harmful effect on charities and eliminate jobs in the nonprofit sector, which accounts for one in 10 jobs in the U.S. For more details, please see his commentary recently posted by Townhall.com.

WHO: Rick Dunham, the president and CEO of Dunham+Company, which helps more than 40 organizations around the world with their marketing, fundraising and media strategies.

Organizations served include World Vision, Open Doors USA, Insight for Living, The Bible Answer Man, Love Worth Finding Ministries, Baylor University, Concerned Women for America, Living on the Edge and Feed the Hungry, among others.

Dunham has appeared on Fox Business News and been quoted in publications such as USA Today and The Chronicle of Philanthropy.

WHEN/WHERE: By appointment Friday or Monday
Via telephone or in studio in the Dallas area
