FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NAE embarks on initiative to lower abortion rate National Association of Evangelicals to open dialogue and explore practical solutions to reduce number of abortions in U.S.

- WHAT: The National Association of Evangelicals (NAE) recently launched the Generation Forum, to open a respectful and productive dialogue in the Church and other appropriate forums about realistic ways to accomplish this goal. The Generation Forum seeks to engage with individuals and organizations, including possible non-traditional partners, who share the goal of reducing the number of abortions being performed in the United States each year.
- WHO: To discuss the Generation Forum and its purpose and stated goals, several NAE spokespersons are available by phone for interviews:
- Aaron Mercer, NAE Project Director
 - Galen Carey, Director of Government Affairs
- WHEN: By appointment.
- WHERE: In studio in the Washington, D.C. area or by phone or Skype.
- DETAILS: NAE spokesmen are available to discuss:
- Goals and purpose of Generation Forum;
 - Recent polling information regarding Evangelicals views on abortion and how to prevent it;
 - Gallup Survey that show that only 30 percent of surveyed Evangelicals believe National religious leaders are doing a good/very good job addressing the issue of abortion; and
 - Theology of Sex – a booklet prepared by the NAE and the Generation Forum to help pastors and church leaders address the topic of human sexuality and the many real-life situations connected to the subject.

To arrange an interview regarding the Generation Forum, please contact Julie Shutley at 972.267.1111 or via e-mail at jshutley@alarryross.com. For more information about the NAE's Generation Forum visit: <http://www.naegeneration.com>.
